

At DigiCrawl, we are committed to upholding ethical standards in all our business practices. In alignment with our values and beliefs, we do not accept projects that are considered haram in Islam. This includes, but is not limited to, the following types of projects:

- Pornographic websites
- Gambling or casino-related websites
- Alcohol and tobacco-related websites
- Interest-based financial services (e.g., conventional banking, loans)
- Websites promoting violence or hate speech
- Websites involving illicit drugs or substances
- Websites promoting usury (riba) or interest
- Websites related to non-halal food products
- Content that encourages or glorifies illegal activities
- Content that discriminates against individuals or groups
- Websites associated with occult practices or superstitions
- Websites promoting unethical hacking or security breaches
- Content that exploits children or vulnerable individuals
- Websites supporting terrorist activities or organizations
- Websites involved in the trade of endangered species or illegal wildlife products
- Content that infringes on intellectual property rights
- Websites promoting false or misleading information
- Websites involved in the sale of counterfeit products
- Content that violates privacy rights
- Websites promoting or selling illegal weapons or firearms
- Content that disrespects or misrepresents religious beliefs
- Websites engaging in fraudulent activities or scams
- Websites distributing malware or engaging in phishing
- Websites involved in human trafficking or exploitation
- Content that promotes body shaming or unhealthy body images

- Websites promoting multi-level marketing (MLM) schemes
- Websites selling or distributing pirated software or media
- Content that encourages self-harm or suicide
- Websites engaged in animal cruelty or illegal animal testing
- Websites involved in black hat SEO practices
- Content that glorifies war or armed conflict
- Websites promoting political extremism or radicalism
- Websites associated with cults or extremist groups
- Content that disrespects or defames individuals or entities
- Websites promoting risky or dangerous activities without proper disclaimers
- Websites that engage in unfair or deceptive advertising practices
- Content that violates community standards or public decency
- Websites involved in the sale of fake or fraudulent documents
- Websites promoting excessive consumerism or materialism
- Content that disrespects or disregards environmental sustainability
- Websites involved in identity theft or impersonation
- Websites promoting or selling unapproved medical treatments
- Content that incites public disorder or panic
- Websites involved in the illegal sale of pharmaceuticals
- Content that violates national security or public safety
- Websites promoting or engaging in blackmail or extortion
- Content that disrespects cultural heritage or monuments
- Websites involved in illegal sports betting
- Content that manipulates or exploits personal data
- Websites promoting anti-social behavior or delinquency

We appreciate your understanding and cooperation in respecting our policy. If you have any questions or need more clarification, please feel free to contact us.

Tanveer Ahmed
Owner & CEO